2. Description

Interactive Game Base is a small black suitcase with a carrying handle. Inside there is a power LED, an audible alarm, two information displays, a numeric keypad and an anti-vandal lock. The charging socket is located on the outer side.

After entering the code, the device is activated; you must also enter the code to deactivate it. If this does not occur, IGB will explode when the time limit has expired, injuring all nearby players. A loud sound indicates an explosion.
